

Many small and mid-sized businesses struggle to market themselves effectively due to limited time, budget, and technical expertise. Without access to streamlined tools or professional guidance, their online presence suffers, leading to missed opportunities and reduced growth. This project aims to create a user-friendly website that automates and simplifies digital marketing—empowering businesses to build campaigns, manage content, and analyze performance without needing a full marketing team.